lu England in 1965, 49 divorced persons again married. Twenty-three gentlemen, who had got rid of their wives, replaced them by as many spinsters. Four gintlemen similarly situated, but of a bolder order of mind, sought in the society of four widows a return of that bliss which had vanished at the interference of Sir Cresswell Cresswell, and seventeen bachelors and three widowers, men of unexampled courage, led to the altar twenty divorced ladies. In only one case did a lady and gentleman who had both disregarded the markinge tie again subject themselves to its restrictions. So says the London Spectator.

borers will serve those whom they fear, and a proper awe of the head of a concern secures prompt obedience, as far as the eyesight can extend. But there is a power in kindness that will touch a deeper principle of action. Suppose that the head of a house should win the love of his subordinates, might he not find his accenting the extension of all the finer feelings from the heads of business acquisition? We know that the axiom, "No triendship in trade, has been interpreted as requiring the banishment of all the finer feelings from the haunts of business, but we think it has been insunderstood. It teaches from experience that proper business from experience that proper business time she lid be observed between friends; but I does not mean that manifestations of the observed between friends; but I does not mean that manifestations of the channels of trade. We do not suppose that our business friends will be induced to lay asade the helmet at once, but if we can induce them at least to wear the visor up, and look with a little more of their natural kindness of manner upon these about them, we think we shall have rendered them a profitable service. — N. SUMMARY OF NEW YORK NEWS. OHIO ELECTION.

Excitement in the Stock Market.

Glory Enough for Several Days. The Republican n jurity for Governor in the region of the Reserve, will certainly reduct these figures. Whether they will overbulance them and place the majority on the other side is a question which seems likely to be decided only by the odicial returns. The Legislature appears to be hepelessly gone. The Democrats gain Senators in the Second, Third, Sixth. Seventh, Tweltth, Sixteenth, and Twontieth, and probably in the Thirteenth Districts, giving them a clear majority of one or two, and in the House they have secured a gain of eighteen members, making or otherwise supervising the distillacured a gain of cighteen members, making a majority, with a prospect of some others yet in doubt, which would give them a working balance of from five to ten on joint ballot.

The Crasette says the returns are still incomplete and the election is very close, but the probability is that the Democrats have carried both Houses of the General Assembly. The Governor is in doubt but

The Enquirer says: We catimate Judge Thurman's majority at 2,160. The Legistature will stand. In the Senate 17 Radicals to 16 Democrats, and in the House 50 Radicals to 56 Democrats, thus giving us a majority of 8 on joint hallot. The returns show that flayes is no doubt elected Governor by from 1,000 to 2,000 major ty. The Legislature is Democratic by n small majority.

Inning their residence in this city, the hard and with have fallen into

rabits of drinkenness, and this state of things eventually resulted in open quar-rels and brawls. About a year since, Whallan, for some reason or other, went to Cincinnati. During his absence Mrs. Whallan made the acquaintance of a man named Milon, who so on became a con-stant visitor at the house in Shinbone alween Wells and Franklin etreesa, and Adams and Qniney streets. Thinking, probably that Whallan, would never resure, she some months ago became Milons swife. A few weeks ago her husband hid return, however, and on finding himself supplanted by another man the took occation to get very drunk. Of this inhistoresion his spouse took advantage. She had him arrested and sent to Bridewell. At this stage of the case, the eldest daugntgiven up all thought of Malon, and he was luffed into sweet security by her protect attorns. But, when trees are young and just be ginning to bear, too close a thinning to bear, too close a thinning of the fruit and too free a removal of the spurs not in Truit so far lessen the demand upon the circulating sap for the support of the fruit and the fruit pur system as to stimulate too highly the wood bud eystem and start a midsummer or nursery to stimulate too highly the wood bud sys-tem and start a midsummer or nursery growth to the great damage of the fruit crop. The peach is perhaps most sensi-tive in this respect, and in more than one instance in our efforts to raise large fruits by close thinning and summer pruning we have had the crop on such trees dwarfed and ruined, sometimes even wilt-ing and falling off. WINDING ORCHARD TREES WITH STRAW. I have this morning just role past a young orchard, the owner of which paid about $30 for the trees last spring. The trees had made a fair start for the first year, and looked healthy and promising for the future—all right, except that nearly every tree had been completely girdled by the hares or rabbits. They are past recovery, as I think it better management to replace with new trees than the other parts of the street or the street of the stree of my hithe nursery was caused by four or five of these animals in about three or four hours. Twenty years ago! commenced upon a new farm here, and ubout one-half of the first orchard! set out was destroyed in the first five years, cither through neglect in not protecting the trees, or when would with paper, as was my cusion in those days, a wet winter storm, with wind, would tear off the paper, and ere I was aware of danger, the tree was runed.

After being annoyed for some years in this way. I set about studying a remedy, that should be cheap, easily applied, and effectual; as d. by chance, I hit ubon it. After a layse of fourteen years, during which time! have thoroughly tested it, having set many hundreds of trees in the time, I now, for the first time, make the remedy public, in hopes that others who have been truelled from the same cause may be benefitted. Once in my life, in some agricultural paper, I saw the same cause may be benefitted. Once in my life, in some agricultural paper, I saw the same remely recommended, but in such a way so not to attract attention, and the mode of applying it, which was by tying with thread or twine to the tree, every way inferior.
